Literacy Café: Tortilla Sun Redux – Kid Lit Frenzy

While spending a summer in New Mexico with her grandmother, twelve-year-old Izzy makes new friends, learns to cook, and for the first time hears stories about.

MY TWO CENTS: Tortilla Sun by Jennifer Cervantes is a perfect middle grade novel. It is well-constructed, has all the required pieces, and that.

The HappyFeet Kids must find a way to help each car. I love when a new storytelling talent creates such a Tortilla Sun first novel that we're Tortilla Sun wondering how they could have possibly been the one behind it. On the verge of learning from Socorro what could have been had her father survived, Izzy unintentionally waltzes into another tragedy, one she doesn't see coming until too late.

Her grandmother is warm and open, and Izzy quickly falls into life in their small town. Books by Jennifer Cervantes. Page 1 of 1 Start over Page 1 of 1.

Her teaching experience ranges from grades five to twelve, but she currently teaches in a middle school. Sun can feel the magic in this story, that certain something that brings it all to life. The process of storytelling is addressed compellingly in Tortilla Sun focusing on an aspect many impatient consumers forget.
